Drinks, nibbles and conversation

We are pleased to announce details of our Carnegie Challenge Debate, an event which complements our 2014 annual conference

Time for a new social contract?

Catalysing a new relationship between state, market and citizen to promote wellbeing, tackle poverty and inequality.

The language of wellbeing and putting people at the centre is now standard in policy; however there is nothing to suggest that there is any understanding of the need, or intention to share power and fundamentally change the role of the state, particularly from the state to the third sector.

Come and take part in an evening's debate with Julia Unwin, Joseph Rowntree Foundation, Dr Angela Donkin, UCL Institute of Health Equity, Dr Axel Kaehne, Gorwel, the independent think tank, and chair Martyn Evans, Chief Executive Officer of Carnegie UK.

Julia Unwin

Dr Angela Donkin

Dr Axel Kaehne

Martyn Evans

This debate is sponsored by the Carnegie UK Trust which supports public debates run by not-for-profit organisations in the UK and Ireland to help communities address issues of concern to them.

Diodydd, bwyd bys a bawd a sgwrsio

Rydym yn falch i gyhoeddi manylion ein Dadl Her Carnegie, digwyddiad sy'n ategu at ein cynhadledd flynyddol eleni

Amser cael contract cymdeithasol newydd?

Ysgogi perthynas newydd rhwng y wladwriaeth, y farchnad a'r dinesydd i hyrwyddo lles, a threchu tlodi ac anghydraddoldeb.

Mae iaith lles a rhoi pobl yn y canol yn arferol mewn polisi erbyn hyn; ond does dim i awgrymu bod yna unrhyw ddealltwriaeth o'r angen, na'r bwriad, i rannu grym a newid rôl y wladwriaeth yn sylfaenol, yn enwedig o'r wladwriaeth i'r trydydd sector.

Dewch i gymryd rhan mewn noswaith o drafod yng nghwmni Julia Unwin, Sefydliad Joseph Rowntree, Dr Angela Donkin, Sefydliad Tegwch Iechyd, Coleg Prifysgol Llundain, Dr Axel Kaehne, Gorwel, y felin drafod annibynnol, a Martyn Evans, Prif Swyddog Gweithredol Ymddiriedolaeth Carnegie UK, yn y Gadair.

Noddir y ddadl hon gan Ymddiriedolaeth Carnegie UK sy'n cefnogi dadleuon cyhoeddus a redir gan fudiadau di-elw yn y Deyrnas Unedig ac Iwerddon i helpu cymunedau i fynd i'r afael â'u pryderon.
